

Finn Juhl Sideboard

Danish designer Finn Juhl was preoccupied with shapes and colors throughout his life because of his great interest in cubist and surrealist art. He was a pioneer of color as an active element in space, furniture and textiles. In 2013 Onecollection relaunched this piece, which is part of a theme, with cubist wood cabinets that float on delicate steel frames and wooden 'feet'. In line with Finn Juhl's fascination for Goethe's color circle, which placed colors in a harmonious cohesion, the sideboard is available in shades of yellow/red or blue combined with walnut, teak, oak, or Oregon pine.
